CARTERET COUNTY: 1779 TAX LIST

Carteret County, North Carolina (settled around 1700), was formed in 1722 from Craven County (see TNC 168). In 1770, part of the Hatteras Banks (not formerly included in any North Carolina county) was added to Carteret; and in 1779 and 1788 small parts of Carteret were annexed to Jones County. Except for these minor changes, Carteret County has remained virtually unchanged since 1722. Carteret is bounded on the west by Onslow and Jones Counties; on the north by Craven, Pamlico, and Hyde Counties; on the east and south by the Atlantic Ocean.

Many of the earliest records of Carteret County have been lost. The 1779 Tax List appears to be the earliest one preserved (there is one for 1784). Over 450 taxables were listed in Carteret County in 1779, giving the county a population at that time of around 2700 (excluding Negroes). The present-day area of the county is 340,480 acres (a little over 500 square miles), and the 1950 population was 23,059 (less than 50 persons per square mile, on the average; in 1779, there were perhaps 5 or 6 persons--one family--per square mile).

This 1779 listing gives acreage (& indicates whether the land was in Carteret, Onslow, or Craven Co.), cattle, horses, town lots, money, Negroes, and total assessment for each taxable. Names only are given below (see original tax list, Archives, File No. L.P.30.1 for details).
